

This is a photo of Ms. Shepard's ninth grade Environmental Science class and the tree they planted as a culminating activity in their watershed unit. The tree planting lesson focused on the benefits of trees in storm water management within watersheds. It is a native red oak and was planted at the Brookhaven entrance.