

VOCABULARY SORT

Fire	Homo habilis	Australopithecus	hominids	tools
Hunting	Homo erectus	Lucy	evolved	bipedal
Ice Age	Neanderthals	cave paintings	skeleton	skulls
Cro Magnon	burial	Stone Age	animals	millions

Group the above words into categories of your choice, and then organize the categories into an outline. From the outline, write an essay about prehistoric humans using each of the vocabulary words at least once. Your essay may be an informational essay or a narrative. If you choose the narrative, it must be historically accurate. Make sure to underline or highlight the vocabulary words at least once. Remember to indent your paragraphs and use proper sentence structure.

***Challenge Level-Black diamond assignment:

Pretend to be an archeologist that specializes in prehistoric hominids. You are on an expedition that spans many years. You will create a journal recording your finds and making analyses of your discoveries. Be sure to tie your discoveries to our study of early hominids and use the vocabulary in your report. Create a character for yourself and identify a site for your dig. Be creative, use sketches of your fossils and artifacts and make hypotheses. Use information we learned about in our archeology unit and combine it with your knowledge of early human. Be sure to underline or highlight the vocabulary words at least once. Use proper sentence structure, spelling and grammar.